

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

TASHEEM GOLDSTON,

Plaintiff,

-against-

9:02-CV-1004

ALBANY COUNTY SHERIFF DEPARTMENT, et al.,

Defendants.

Thomas J. McAvoy,
Senior United States District Judge

DECISION & ORDER

This pro se action brought pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983 was referred by this Court to the Hon. George H. Lowe, United States Magistrate Judge, for a Report-Recommendation pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 636(b) and Local Rule 72.3(c).

No objections to the Report-Recommendation dated March 28, 2006 have been raised. Ordinarily, when no objections are raised to a Report-Recommendation, the Court examines the record to determine whether the Report-Recommendation is subject to attack for plain error or manifest injustice. Here, however, the Court's docket sheet entry #69 indicates that the Report-Recommendation, which was sent to the Plaintiff at his last known address, was returned as undeliverable.

Every litigant is required to keep the Court advised of his or her address so that documents and decisions may be served upon him or her by mail. See Local Rules of the United States District Court for the Northern District of New York, 10.1(b). In this case, Plaintiff was advised on 6/21/04 of his responsibility to keep the court and defendants notified of his current address. Failure to keep his address current can greatly delay proceedings and, therefore, can be construed as an abandonment of the action. "While a pro se litigant's pleadings must be construed liberally, ... pro se litigants generally are required to inform themselves regarding procedural rules and to comply with them." Edwards v. INS, 59 F.3d 5, 8 (2d Cir. 1995) (citing McNeil v. United States, 113 S.Ct. 1980, 1984 (1993)) ("[W]e have never suggested that procedural rules in ordinary civil litigation should be interpreted so as to excuse mistakes by those who proceed without counsel."); see also Faretta v. California, 95 S.Ct. 2525, 2541 n. 46 (1975) ("The right of self-representation is not a license ... not to comply with relevant rules of procedural and substantive law.").

While the Court could infer that the Plaintiff's failure to advise the Court Clerk's Office of his forwarding address is a tacit abandonment of his claims addressed in the Report-Recommendation, the Court will instead exercise its discretion and review this matter as if a general objection has been lodged to the Report-Recommendation. Under such circumstances, the Court reviews the record de novo. See 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1). After such a review, the Court may "accept, reject, or modify, in whole or in part, the findings or recommendations made by the magistrate judge. The Court may also receive further evidence or recommit the matter to the magistrate judge with instructions." Id.

Having considered the record de novo, the Court adopts the Report-Recommendation in its entirety for the reasons stated therein.

It is therefore,

ORDERED that Defendants' motion for summary judgment [dkt. # 66] is GRANTED, and all claims brought against Defendants Jill Gervais and Robert Laventure are DISMISSED.
